

Busy women fall short in their retirement preparations!

Women age 40-59, commonly referred to as the “sandwich generation,” often are caring for children and aging parents, while managing their careers and financial security.

Women envision an active retirement

... and they are not feeling prepared for retirement, especially those who are homemakers

In fact, many rely on their spouses

But they are largely pessimistic about being able to retire with a comfortable lifestyle

19% Feel very or extremely confident that they will be able to retire with a comfortable lifestyle

Five quick tips

- 1 Make a “Bucket List” of your retirement goals and aspirations
- 2 Make a written retirement plan, seeking advice of a financial planner
- 3 Keep job skills up to date
- 4 Work at least part-time if not currently employed
- 5 Consider working longer and flexing into retirement

* A low Aegon Retirement Readiness Index (ARRI) score is a score below six on a scale from zero to ten

 Workers
 Homemakers